

NATIONAL
Eucharistic Revival

Coach or Consultant?

Similarities:

- Both come from outside an organization / institution.
- Both bring expertise, knowledge, and skills to the table.
- Both are about helping others reach goals, improve, and grow.
- Both work with leadership of the organization.

Differences:

Consultant	Coach
Consultant is the expert	Client is the expert
Focus on advisement	Focus on empowerment
Problem-oriented	Client-oriented
Diagnose and recommend changes	Explore questions and guide discernment
I know	You know
Provides possibilities	Explores possibilities
Brings technical expertise to the table to provide professional answers	Brings questions to the table to provide an experience of finding answers
Guides through leading and/or teaching a process or method	Guides through building capacity that is brought out in others
Use data and information in order to analyze problem and offer ideas to move forward	Guides by strategies and principles that are given to client to implement themselves
Will deliver an outcome, product, or result to overcome a strategic problem	Will deliver guidance for client to change their own behavior for the better
Focus on growing the organization	Focus on growing person(s)